Aaron Named V. President; Pay Tribute to Jones

Group Prepares For Visit of Sen. Douglas Thursday

The Shawnee Hills Recreation association, meeting Monday night at the VFW building in Golconda, elected officers for 1958, prepared for the visit of U. S. Senator Paul Douglas to Harrisburg Thursday morning, and heard a report on the status of conservation lake projects in southern Illinois by a representative of the State Department of Conservation.

The association also heard a tribute to the late Senator Glen O. Jones, given by Atty. Don Scott of Harrisburg. The SHRA was formed as a result of Senator Jones' idea to organize to boost the tourist industry to help the economy of Saline, Gallatin, Hardin, Pope, Johnson and Massac counties.

Elected president was Ray Mitterdorf of Metropolis, the present vice president, who will succeed George Scherrer of Shawneetown in January.

To Hold County Elections

Louis Aaron of Harrisburg was elected vice president, William Rottman of Golconda was elected treasurer and B. D. Fowler of Metropolis was elected secretary.

Each county must now hold elections before the first meeting in January. County presidents and one other from each county will comprise the new board of directors.

The association arranged to show Sen. Douglas photos of the region and to present a picture to him of what increased federal funds for the scenic and recreation areas could do for the economy of the region. A committee that will appear at the Douglas meeting, scheduled for 10 a. m., will meet first in the office of Atty. Scott at 9:30 a. m.

Representing the department of conservation was Brockett Bates. He said the people of the area can look forward to having the conservation lake near Rudement "before too many years."

1800 Acre Area

Plans, he said, are for a 175-acre lake in an 1,800 acre area of land. Geological work is yet to be done at the site, he stated.

Mr. Bates stated that Ferne Clyffe state park will have a 700 acre addition to the south, that geological work has been done in regard to constructing a lake on the acreage, adding "it looks like the structure will not hold water for a large lake, that there will have to be a small lake or lakes."

A proposed lake on the Massac Pope county line is in the tentative stage, he declared, saying prospects for building a lake now are not so good "but the project is not forgotten."

Mr. Bates said the department is hoping to do more with state camping areas. The department hopes to take electricity into the parks and is building shelter houses with flush toilets, he added.

Farmer Admits Butchering Woman and Robbing Fresh Graves

PLAINFIELD, Wis. (UP)—Authorities today said a bachelor farmer who admitted butchering a woman storekeeper apparently also robbed fresh graves and decorated his home with a gruesome array of human remains.

The police, who asked that their identity be withheld, said the admission by farmer Ed Gein, 51, that he robbed a number of graves "almost rules out the theory he was a mass murderer completely."

Inside Gein's junk-strewn, nine-room farm house, authorities found 10 human skulls, at least one of them painted with lipstick. Some of his furniture appeared to have been upholstered with human skin, police said.

Authorities sought permission today to dig up graves Gein said he robbed to determine if they had been disturbed.

More Questioning Planned

Officials of the state crime laboratory said they planned to take Gein to their headquarters in Madison, Wis., today for further questioning and lie tests.

Gein admitted Monday he butchered Mrs. Bernice Worden, 58, a Plainfield hardware store owner, while in a trance.

Gein said he could not recall slaying Mrs. Worden last Saturday, but when he came out of a "daze" he remembered dragging her body from the store. Mrs. Worden's nude and decapitated body was found hanging in Gein's woodshed by authorities investigating her disappearance.

Coroner Russell Darby said the search of Gein's home was the "most revolting thing I have ever seen."

Itemized Find

Items turned up included five heads wrapped in plastic bags, 10 death masks made of skinned human heads, one boned and shrunk head, drums apparently made of human skin, bracelets and belts of human skin and hair, preserved female organs and women's and girls' clothing.

A human heart was found in a pan on Gein's kitchen stove when he was arrested, and District Attorney Earl Kileen said there was evidence of cannibalism. However, Gein denied "he ever has eaten human flesh," Kileen said.

In questioning by authorities Monday night, Gein was quoted as saying he had gone out about 40 times on moonlight nights to rob graves at two cemeteries for a "thrill."

Gein was held in jail at Wauwatosa on a technical charge of stealing Mrs. Worden's cash register. Bond was set at $10,000 and a preliminary hearing was scheduled for next Tuesday.

Seeks $25,000 For Mine Death Of Husband

Fannie Rich, administratrix of the estate of her late husband, Charles Rich, seeks $25,000 for his death, which occurred on a Joy loading machine in a Gallatin county coal mine.

The complaint, filed in Saline county circuit court by a Belleville law firm, Dreman and Sterling, names Lawrence Boutwell and Chester Wasson, doing business as the B and W Coal Co. in Gallatin county, and Joe Bennett and John Bennett, as defendants.

The complaint says the B and W Co. leased its Saline River mine to the Bennetts and owned a Joy loading machine underground which was not in use and which B and W was attempting to sell.

It says that Rich, a Harrisburg resident, was employed as a loading machine operator by the Breyley Coal Co. of Madisonville, Ky., which was interested in purchasing the machine.

It says that while Rich was at the Saline River mine inspecting the loading machine on Nov. 17, 1956, the machine started up and pinned Rich against the ceiling, crushing him to death.

Rain, Mud Keeps Farmers from Picking Corn

The farmer's income is out in the field and he can't get it out because of rain and resulting muddy conditions.

More than seven inches of rain has fallen in this area so far in November, and because the farmer had a late planting season due to downpours in May and June, November rains have put him on the spot.

L. B. Kimmel, Saline county farm adviser, estimated that only about half the corn has been picked in the county, that during the past few days some of the corn is going down. That means the stalks are falling over and a lot of the ears are getting down in the mud.

"The late spring planting has complicated the situation this fall," he stated. "Beside not being able to get out the corn, what has been picked is carrying a high moisture content, which is giving the farmer a discount on the grain market."

Mr. Kimmel stated that the present rain will keep some farmers out of the fields for two or three more weeks without further precipitation.

"And what is left in the field now is his profit," Mr. Kimmel commented. For the most part, Mr. Kimmel said, the soybean crop has been harvested.

Government to Ask Death Penalty For Slayer of Two VA Officers

RENO, Nev. (UP)—The government will ask the death penalty, a prosecutor said today, for a former chief guard who stomped into a Veterans Administration hospital Monday with two guns and killed two VA officers.

Another officer was critically wounded by Elza W. Eaton, 62, before he was disarmed by a fourth prospective victim.

Officials said Eaton had resigned his job as chief security officer of the hospital last March after making a series of complaints about its administration.

Assistant U. S. Attorney H. F. Ahlswede said the government will ask a first degree murder indictment which carries the penalty of death in Nevada's gas chamber on conviction unless a jury specifically states its verdict is "without capital punishment."

The 6-foot, 3-inch Eaton first walked into the engineering office, and fired at Earl A. Lombardi, 39, the hospital's engineering officer. Lombardi fell to the floor, critically wounded. Eaton pushed past his unconscious form and shot dead the assistant engineering officer, Phillip I. Keables, 59.

Eaton then took a self-service elevator to the second floor, and entered the office of personnel officer Arthur R. Small, 48, and killed him.

He walked back into the corridor and shoved the shotgun into the mid-section of assistant VA manager James R. Harrison. Harrison grabbed the barrel and the blast went harmlessly into the wall.

Eaton pulled a .38 caliber pistol from his holster. Before he could fire it, Harrison and assistant VA attorney Newell Moresse subdued him.

Ahlswede said a new grand jury will be summoned to hear the case, probably on Nov. 27.

President Discusses Budget Plans with McElroy, McNeil; Third Speech November 26

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy announced today after a conference with President Eisenhower that the Defense Department may have to shut down some major military installations in the United States to meet the higher costs of rocket and missile development next year.

McElroy and W. J. McNeil, the assistant secretary of defense and Pentagon expert on budgetary matters, spent two hours with the President this morning discussing defense spending for the rest of this fiscal year and the whopping budget for fiscal 1959.

McElroy said he does not believe the President's announcement of considerably higher defense expenditures next year would result in a major increase in the Pentagon budget.

McElroy said the final budget figure was not settled today, but he thought it would be "completely possible" that some military installations in the United States would have to be closed down to meet the financial demands of the space age.

As the meeting between the President and McElroy ended, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty announced that the chief executive would make his third "chins up" speech to the American public from Cleveland, Ohio, on the night of Nov. 26.

The President will speak under the auspices of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce and will be introduced by former Treasury Secretary George Humphrey.

Hagerty said the subject of the Nov. 26 speech would be "the value of international cooperation in our nation's security."

McElroy also told a news conference that he expects to be able to provide additional units of the American medium range guided missile for European Allies "earlier than had been expected."

He rejected the suggestion of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that the Soviet Union and the United States might run an accuracy contest to prove superiority of their missiles and rockets.

Harper Given Year Sentence For Bad Checks

William T. Harper, 33, of Overland, Mo., a cashier of worthless checks, late Monday was sentenced to a year on the state farm at Vandalia by County Judge Trafton Dennis following his plea of guilty to a fraudulent check charge.

Harper wrote bad checks in the amount of $171 to Harrisburg merchants late Friday. Before that he passed checks in the amount of $250 at Eldorado and had a check for $50 cashed at Equality.

And, it appears, he has collected money on bad checks at other points.

Chester Estes, city fireman on duty last night, said quite a number of telephone calls came to the city hall last night from points in Missouri. The callers said they had read press association reports Harper had been arrested in Harrisburg and said he had passed bad checks in their communities.

Harper's plea of guilty preceded the opening of a term of county court today.

However, two defendants, George Fletcher and Edward Harmon, failed to appear and Judge Dennis ordered bench warrants for their arrest and ordered bond forfeiture.

Fletcher is charged with driving while intoxicated and Harmon is charged with driving while intoxicated and illegal transportation.

Following the action the county court jury was dismissed until Friday.

Before court adjourned a plea of guilty to a petit larceny charge was accepted from Calvin M. Miller and the youth was placed on probation.

Appeal for Blood Donors to Meet Holiday Needs

Following the assignment to the Masonic temple in Carrier Mills from noon to 6 p. m. on Wednesday, the bloodmobile will be at the Methodist Education building in Eldorado Thursday. Donors from this area may sign with a blood recruitment worker for either day, or having failed to sign, may still be received at either place to donate blood to supply the demand which the holiday accident victims will surely need.

This is the opportunity for everyone in the community to participate in the program of "People Helping People" as outlined by the Red Cross workers in this community.

The bloodmobile will not be back in Saline county until February and with Thanksgiving, Christmas and the New Year holidays approaching, there will be a demand for more blood than the Red Cross now has on hand.

It is to be remembered that the human body has about 13 pints of blood and that the one donated will be replaced by the body in about ten days from the time of its giving. The few individuals who cannot safely donate their blood without risking harm to their own bodies, are not accepted by the workers, so that everyone may offer.

This appeal is being made at the Thanksgiving season when the Red Cross reminds us, each one of us may very well express thanks for his own well being by contributing to the saving of someone's life. It could be one of our loved ones who will need this help.

Girard Sentence Is Suspended

Walks Out of Court a Free Man; Many Japanese Oppose Court Ruling

TOKYO (UP)—Many Japanese reacted angrily today to the suspended sentence given U. S. Army SSG William S. Girard who shot and killed a Japanese woman last spring on what a Japanese judge called a "childish whim."

A three-man Japanese court today sentenced the Ottawa, Ill., soldier to three years at hard labor on the manslaughter conviction, but sentence was suspended for four years on good behavior. Girard walked out of court a free man.

Today's sentence will not become final under Japanese law until 14 days have passed. During that time both prosecutor and defense attorneys can file an appeal. Indications were both sides have had enough and the conviction will stand.

The Army planned to get Girard out of Japan shortly after the appeal period ends. In reality, he is on four years' probation and, if he were to stay in Japan and run afoul of Japanese law within that period, he could automatically be sent to prison to serve the three-year sentence imposed on him by the Maebashi court.

In Washington, the State Department commented that the trial was carried out "with the utmost fairness and with due regard for the rights of the accused." The department shied away from direct comment on the outcome, but officials privately said they felt Girard was treated very leniently.

Opposition to the light sentence was led by the Socialist Party whose demands for a Japanese trial for the slaying of Mrs. Naka Sakai, a brass scavenger at the Camp Weir firing range Jan. 30 touched off an international furor.

Inejiro Asanuma, Secretary General of the opposition Socialist Party, called the verdict a "complete manifestation of the weakness of Japanese courts toward the United States."

Kayoko Sakai, the 22-year-old daughter of the victim, termed the suspended sentence "the same thing as a non-guilty verdict." She said she believed the sentence would not "provide Girard with a chance to atone for his crime."

Girard himself was glad to be out of it.

"It was kind of tough," he told a press conference at Camp Drew. "But I am glad the judge gave me another chance."

In Girard's home town of Ottawa, Mayor Fred Eichelkraut said, "I'm glad it's over and that Bill will be coming home to his mother soon."

Judge Yuzo Kawachi, head of the three-man court at Maebashi, admonished Girard in his final opinion to "turn over a new leaf and stop taking light hearted action" so he could "grow into bigger and better manhood."

Army authorities said Girard would leave for the United States "shortly" after expiration of the two-week waiting period. Girard already has made arrangements to take Candy, his 29-year-old Japanese wife, back to the States with him.

The Way of the Dictator

Editorial — By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Not since the death of Stalin in 1953 has any serious student of Soviet communism doubted that sooner or later the struggle for power among his successors would lead again to one-man rule. The only question was who the man would be.

Recent developments in Russia make it unmistakably clear that Nikita Khrushchev is trying to be that man.

But, though he has given Marshal Zhukov a cynical shove toward the abyss, Khrushchev is not yet triumphant.

Indications from Moscow suggest that Zhukov still has important support in the Red Army hierarchy. Khrushchev must effectively snuff out that support before he can truly be said to have consolidated his hold upon the powerful military.

As a matter of fact, Khrushchev even before the Zhukov ouster as defense minister was still busy completing his purge of the supporters of Molotov, Malenkov and Kaganovich, whom he sent into limbo last spring.

The business of making oneself a dictator is no overnight affair. Stalin was occupied with it from the mid-1920's until 1938. Khrushchev still may have a considerable distance to go.

But it is revealing of the ugly, unstable nature of Soviet communism that in his effort to get there he had to cast into political, if not total disgrace, the Soviet war hero, Zhukov.

The charges lodged against the marshal in bouncing him from his party posts add up to one thing: He was guilty of putting the Red Army above the Communist party, and above the party boss, Khrushchev.

In the latter's book, this is a double sin. To the extent that he fought party influence in the army, Zhukov placed himself directly at odds with Khrushchev's personal quest for the dictator's scepter.

But even if the party boss had no such goal, the marshal could still be faulted. For in a Communist government there is no room for divided allegiances of any sort. There can be but one authority, and all others—army, church, rival parties—must be either crushed or held subservient.

In Russia the party is that authority. It has and will accept army help toward its goal of power. But it will not share the spoils, nor allow its supremacy to be challenged.

Nevertheless, the way of the would-be dictator is never easy. Rivals may be crushed, but new ones rise in their place. Menace lurks behind every pillar in the Kremlin. Brother Khrushchev has his work cut out for him.

Kansas will celebrate its 100th anniversary as a state on Jan. 29, 1961.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON SAYS: Dulles Prepares Revolutionary Plan For World Defense; He Wants Stevenson To Help Him Sell It; Adlai Would Rather Be Secretary Of State Than President.

WASHINGTON. — If you get a glimpse at the advance plans John Foster Dulles has for the NATO meeting in Paris you can readily understand why he wants Adlai Stevenson to stand by his side to give him a helping hand. Dulles will need all the support he can get from Stevenson and the Democrats, since he isn't likely to get much from old guard Republicans.

For he has worked out the most revolutionary plan of free-world defense ever contemplated in the history of individual nations. So far it's tentative and subject to change. It depends in part on Stevenson's reaction. But what Dulles wants to sell is such a complete coordination of West European defense that France might give up her navy to depend on the British and American navies, while England might give up long-range bombers to depend on American bombers.

Here are the outlines of the tentative world plan for western free-world defense:

1. A pool of western scientific resources, not only of scientists, but of laboratories and equipment.
2. A joint training program, whereby the best science students would study at any university, whether British, American or German. Thus an Italian student might go to Germany, a Greek student to the United States. There would be an international pool of scientific training.
3. A military pool, as outlined above, whereby expensive land armies are curtailed in favor of pushbutton warfare.
4. Finally, the United States and England would build up an arsenal of nuclear weapons and guided missiles in Europe.

U. S. GUARANTEE

This involves the most revolutionary step of all. For what Dulles and Eisenhower will have to sell the smaller nations of Europe is that the Anglo-Saxon nations reserve the power to decide when Europe will go to war or when it won't. It will be their decision as to when this stockpile shall be used. Eisenhower and Macmillan do not want to permit Belgium, Greece, Denmark et al to dip into the atomic stockpile when they may be worried about war; only if England and the United States are ready to go to war.

Selling this will not be easy. In order to sell it, Dulles proposes a solemn pledge that the United States will come to the aid of any free European nation if attacked; that we will go all-out to protect it with every weapon in the arsenal—even if this involves retaliatory bombardment of American cities.

This is the trump card Dulles proposes to play, and this is where Adlai Stevenson comes in. His job will be to keep the Democrats in line.

FEAR OF CONGRESS

If you study the diplomacy of John Foster Dulles you come to the inescapable conclusion that his chief failures have resulted not from lack of brain, but lack of courage. Today he has two great fears: One is Russia; the other is the congress of the United States. And much as the administration is worried about Russia, much as it fears their ICBM and new scientific victories, even more it seems to fear Congress.

In the past, Dulles and Eisenhower could always fall back on the Democrats for support. They knew they could expect little from such pillars of Republicanism as Sens. John Bricker of Ohio, Styles

Bridges of New Hampshire, Bill Jenner of Indiana, or, in many cases, Bill Knowland of California. These stalwart GOPers have been against almost every plank in the Eisenhower-Dulles foreign affairs platform, because basically Eisenhower-Dulles are following New Deal foreign affairs policies.

So Dulles knew he could fall back on the Democrats.

Today, however, he can't. The Democrats are irked, sore, and rebellious. They are all too aware of the fact that the Republican national committee is continuing to mail out reams of publicity accusing them of getting the nation into two world wars; still branding them as guilty of 26 years of treason. Democrats also see the Eisenhower missile-satellite setback as their political victory. And they know that GOP Chairman Meade Aclorn has warned the White House that public-opinion polls show Sputnik means political disaster for the Republicans. Sputnik, Aclorn has reported, is the basic reason for fantastic Democratic majorities in New Jersey and New York.

The Democrats know this, and John Foster Dulles knows that they know it. That's why he is clutching at the coattails of the once-scorned egghead, Adlai Stevenson.

SECRETARY OF STATE STEVENSON??

Close friends of Adlai Stevenson are firmly convinced he will never again run for president, but that he does cherish the ambition to become secretary of state in the next administration — which he hopes and believes will be Democratic.

Stevenson's greatest interest has always been foreign affairs. He worked on British-American problems in London during part of the war, was later the first to propose a republic rather than a kingdom for Italy; attended the San Francisco conference in 1945 which hammered out the foundation format of the United Nations.

During the Truman-Dewey campaign of 1948, John Foster Dulles campaigned so vigorously against Truman that White House press spokesman Charlie Ross announced Dulles would not be welcomed back as adviser to the Democratic State Department. One day later Dean Acheson reversed this, and Dulles did come back. He remained for four years, working side-by-side with the Democratic secretary of state.

Stevenson's friends say a similar role for him alongside the present Republican secretary of state would give him invaluable training to be next secretary of state—if and when.

Complainant Pays Defendant's Fine

FALLS CITY, Neb. — Dr. Alfred Stappenbeck, Humboldt, Neb., wanted to prove his point, but didn't want anyone hurt by it. Stappenbeck filed a traffic complaint against Cecil Bennett, Falls City, then paid the $20 fine when the justice of the peace found Bennett guilty.

Stappenbeck said Bennett, a truck driver, passed a bus going uphill and narrowly missed a head-on collision with Stappenbeck's car. Bennett denied he violated a traffic law.

Stappenbeck said he wanted to prove Bennett was wrong, but didn't want to penalize him financially.

Susannah Wesley Class Holds November Meeting

The Susannah Wesley Sunday school class of the First Methodist church held its November meeting in the home of Mrs. J. A. Bottomley, Thursday evening. Kathleen Skaggs presided and election of officers was held.

Elected officers were: Bonnie Lee Pankey, president; Opal Cummins, vice-president; Mary Jane Cummins, secretary; Ruth Gilliam, treasurer; and Lola Robb, corresponding secretary. The class voted to give $10 to the Santa Claus fund and $20 for a serving table for Wesley Center. Mrs. Callie Morris gave the devotion, "Time To Be Thankful."

Mrs. Bottomley was assisted by Mrs. Mary Horn in serving refreshments. Those attending were: Mary Coker, Callie Morris, Kathleen Skaggs, Ruth Gilliam, Doris Ozmert, Opal Cummins, Mary Jane Cummins, Elizabeth Brown, Lola Robb, Virginia Pritchard, Mary Shepherd, Bonnie Lee Pankey, Mrs. Madge Schwartz and a guest, Katherine Mode.

Dorrisville Baptist Church Ladies' Bible Class Meets

The Ladies' Bible class of the Dorrisville Baptist church met in the home of Mrs. Clarence Dixon Thursday evening. Mrs. Iley McDowell presided and the meeting was opened with a hymn. The devotional reading was the 100th Psalm.

Mrs. Rose McIlrath was in charge of the recreation and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Boyd Langford and Mrs. Roy Hudnell. Mrs. Thelma Dunning won the door prize. The next meeting will be the Christmas meeting and will be in the home of Mrs. Rose McIlrath.

Others present were: Mrs. William Noonan, Mrs. Lon Vaughn, Mrs. Roscoe Neible, Mrs. Amos Dunn, Mrs. Rosa Stricklin, and Mrs. Ralph Stout.

Eight presidents of the United States were born in the state of Ohio.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN J. FLYNN, who were married recently at San Francisco, Calif. She is the former Miss Jo Ann Stiff.

Miss Jo Ann Stiff Married to John J. Flynn in San Francisco

Miss Jo Ann Stiff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stiff, 321 Missouri street, San Francisco, Calif., formerly of Harrisburg, and John J. Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Flynn, 7 Diaz avenue, San Francisco, were married in St. Thomas More church of that city on Oct. 12. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Francis X. Cottrell at 2 o'clock before the altar decorated with gladioli and chrysanthemums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a white net over satin wedding gown, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline on a fitted bodice with long sleeves pointed at the hands. Her ballerina length skirt was bouffant and the dress trimmings were of seed-pearl embroidered rosettes. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was secured to a crown of orange blossoms and she carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and roses.

Miss Shirley A. Godfrey served as her maid of honor and wore a nylon dress of light green color which had a full pleated skirt and a deeper shade of green sash. Her bouquet was of matching carnations.

The bridesmaids were Miss Sue Ellen Stiff, only sister of the bride, and Miss Mary Jane Flynn. Their dresses were of light blue and pink chiffon with full skirts. Their bouquets for the bridegroom.

The ushers were David Flynn and Russell Parrington. The bride's mother wore a champagne colored brocade satin dress with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of two white orchids.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a soft lavender for her son's wedding, complemented with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of two white orchids.

Immediately following the wedding there was a reception in the Sand Dunes club decorated with gladioli and chrysanthemums. The three tiered wedding cake held the place of honor at the bride's table and supported a miniature bride and groom. Pink and white gladioli formed the centerpiece at the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Flynn left for a ten day honeymoon trip to Las Vegas and through southern California, travelling by automobile.

The bride was graduated from Polytechnic high school in June of this year and has been employed at the Metropolitan Life Insurance company.

Mr. Flynn was graduated from Gonzaga high school in Washington, D. C., in 1955. He is employed at the Union Oil Company of California.

The rehearsal party was held in the home of the bridegroom's parents on Oct. 10.

Donald Flynn acted as best man

Alpha Circle Meets With Mrs. Robert Brown

The November meeting of the Alpha circle was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Brown recently. Miss Ruth Brockett gave the Bible study, "By What Means?" The Missionary Education lesson, "The More We Get Together," was presented by Mrs. William Burroughs. The Yearbook of Prayer was given by Mrs. Richard Jelliffe.

A short business meeting followed, presided over by Mrs. Paul Showalter, circle chairman. Each member was asked to give a quarter to "The Fellowship of the Least Coin." For the Christmas member was asked to give a quarter to bring a gift plus some canned goods to be given to a needy family. Mrs. Willard Wiley and Mrs. Hudson Mudge were appointed to the committee for this project.

Dessert and coffee were served to 18 members and two guests, Mrs. James Bellamy and Mrs. James Arensman, by Mrs. Brown and her assistant hostess, Mrs. Rollie Moore.

Bible Sunday School Class Meets With Mrs. Clara Hunter

The Bible Sunday school class of the First Church of the Nazarene met in the home of Mrs. Clara Hunter, at 7 p. m. Tuesday. Mrs. George Turner gave the devotion for this regular monthly meeting and the other class members presented the choruses of their favorite hymns.

Refreshments of pie, sandwiches and coffee were served and the following attended: Mrs. Eva Estes, Mr. and Mrs. George Turner, Rev. C. M. Scott, class teacher, Mrs. Eva Cook, Mrs. Aline Grier, Mrs. Marie Weatherly, Mrs. Helen Hughes, Mrs. Isolene Parkinson, Mrs. Fannie Hayes, Mrs. Clara Grisham, Mrs. Phoebe Hutchinson, Mrs. Lillie Bourland and the hostess.

Faithful Followers Class Meets In First General Baptist Church

The Faithful Followers Sunday school class met in the First General Baptist church basement for its monthly business and social meeting at 7 p. m. Friday. Sam Dudley, president, called the meeting to order. Following the business meeting refreshments of pie and coffee were served. Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Browning and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Winklemar and Mr. and Mrs. San Dudley and children.

The next regular meeting will be held Dec. 13.

The look of costume jewelry this year is the real look, done with simplicity and elegance. Satin-finished gold bracelets (upper left) are Florentine in feeling, are prettiest worn in pairs. Aurora beads are coupled with fake pearls in topaz color to make (upper right) three-strand bib, drop earrings and bracelet. The pieces are polished for a lustrous look. Chevron-styled necklace, bracelet and earrings (lower left) are done in rhinestones that have been set with all of the care usually reserved for real jewelry. The last of these Loru designs (lower right) is the multi-strand bib a la Chanel, shown here in tones of beige and butterscotch.—By GAILE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor.

Supreme Court Dismisses Appeal Against Use Tax

WASHINGTON 19—The Supreme Court Monday dismissed an appeal challenging the constitutionality of the 1955 state use tax law last January.

The case stemmed from a taxpayer's suit, brought by John W. Turner Jr. in Cook County Circuit Court, to determine the validity of the 1955 law.

The Cook County court held that the law did not violate either the state or federal Constitution. The Illinois Supreme Court first ruled that it violated the state constitution because of "lack of uniformity" in its application. But after rehearing, the state high court held the tax was designed to protect Illinois' occupational tax on retailers and was constitutional.

Supreme Court Dismisses Appeal Against Use Tax

The use tax, levied on the purchaser, is aimed chiefly at merchandise bought out of state for use in Illinois. But it also is collected on purchases within the state. In such cases the Illinois retailer, who pays a similar 2 1/2 per cent occupation tax, keeps the use tax as reimbursement.

Several hundred suggestions for getting a raise

Whenever you think about money—and we hope you do think of it from time to time—here's a useful idea to keep in mind:

There are more ways of trying to increase your income than by asking for a raise. You can own common stock in any of hundreds of prosperous companies with the idea of getting extra income from dividends.

Today eight and a half million Americans own stock. And the wonder is that there are not many more. Because when you own stock you are a part-owner of a corporation. As an owner you can share in profits the company pays in dividends and share in its growth through increase in the value of your stock. In this way you can get income from other sources than your job... an income that may keep coming in whether you're working or not.

How to go about it

Start with money left over after emergencies are provided for. And before you invest a penny, get the facts about the company. Don't depend on tips or rumors. Remember that a company may not pay dividends, may not grow, may even go backwards in our competitive business world. And get good advice from a nearby broker—making sure he's with a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange.

But remember, too, that there are hundreds of prospering companies. There are over 800 companies on the New York Stock Exchange that have paid dividends every three months from 20 to 93 years. You'll find their records and additional valuable information in our wonderful booklet, "INVESTMENT FACTS." It also describes the Monthly Investment Plan, through which you can buy stock in some of America's most famous companies for as little as $40 every three months up to $1000 a month.

Drop in to see a friendly broker in a nearby Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. Ask him for a free copy. He'll be glad to help you work out a sensible investment program, perhaps recommending bonds instead of stocks. He'll help you buy or sell, and from time to time you can ask him to review your securities with you—an important thing to do.

But first of all, send the coupon now for your free copy of "INVESTMENT FACTS." It may prove one of the wisest moves you've ever made.

Some Tips for Safer Winter Driving---

BE PREPARED FOR WINTER

Winterize your car, your driving technique and your attitude. Accept the fact that normal speeds are often too fast for winter conditions. Whenever weather is bad, slow down.

GET THE FEEL OF THE ROAD

Test road conditions right away. As soon as you start out (but away from other cars or hazards) try your brakes to find out how slippery the road surface is.

MAKE SURE YOU CAN SEE

Don't drive blind. Keep windshield and windows clear. Maintain wiper blades, heater and defroster in proper operating condition. Ventilate to keep inside of windows clear.

TAKE ALONG CHAINS

Check your tires. Whether you use regular or snow tires, keep them in good condition. Use reinforced tire chains for deep or hard-packed snow, ice, and in emergency situations.

DON'T FOLLOW TOO CLOSELY

Following too closely, always a hazard, is especially dangerous in winter. Keep well back of the vehicle ahead to give yourself plenty of room for an emergency stop.

PUMP YOUR BRAKES ON ICE

To stop quickly, pump your brakes in a series of fast applications. Jamming on the brakes will lock the wheels and throw the car into an uncontrollable skid. Keep your head.

Proposed State Bonus for Korean Vets Given Big Lift by GOP Committee

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(Special)—The proposed state bonus for Illinois veterans of Korea was given a big lift with its endorsement here recently by the Illinois State Republican Committee. Democrats are expected to take similar action at their next full meeting. The bonus will be at the rate of $10 a month for each month in service between June 27, 1950, and June 27, 1953.

The proposal will be voted on in the form of a $75 million bond issue at the November, 1958 election. In addition to the $10 a month payment, veterans who served in Korea will get $100. Nearest of kin of veterans who died in service will get $1,000. The bonus plan will be financed through an additional one cent tax on each package of cigarettes.

State Rep. Louis F. Bottino, Lockport, one of several freshmen legislators listed as "outstanding" by newspaper correspondents in the recent assembly, has been named a temporary $9,600 a year administrative assistant to the Joliet Grade School System. The appointment is temporary as Bottino plans to seek a other Assembly term. H. also has been mentioned for state school superintendent.

Illinois high school basketball fans will best remember Bottino. While principal and coach at the Braidwood High School he took the Braidwood to the finals in the state basketball tournament in 1938. In his first term, in the Illinois House this year Bottino, and his district team-mate, Rep. Francis J. Loughran, R., Joliet, piloted a Joliet Regional Port bill through passage and into law.

Mrs. Louise Carpentier, Moline, was thrilled last month to hear the voice of her son, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier, East Moline, over a transatlantic telephone. He called from Sleyden, Belgium, where she was born. Relatives and friends of the Secretary's mother still reside in the area which is close to Ghent.

Secretary Carpentier, who was vacationing in Europe, arrived back in New York Tuesday and was greeted by his wife. It was the Secretary's first trip outside the U. S. and his first real vacation of more than a few days since he was first elected. While in Europe he visited the various capitals and had an audience with Pope Pius XII.

Illinois State Supreme Court Justice Ray I. Klingbiel, East Moline, is sporting a three-numbered state auto license—209—on his car. It was formerly the number of the late Chicago Mayor Edward J. Kelly. Three women with one-number licenses are Mrs. Carpentier, wife of the Secretary Carpentier, (Number Three); and Mrs. William G. Stratton, wife of the Governor (Number Six); and Mrs.

John Oglesby, Springfield, (Number Seven).

Former Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett, Chicago, now county clerk of Cook County, has 22, and his wife, Jeanne, 21. The Chicago Daily News has number 39. Others with choice numbers include the Chicago Roman Catholic Archdiocese, Number One, Right Reverend Burrill, Episcopalian Bishop of Chicago, Number 46; and Dr. Preston Bradley, pastor of The People's Church, Chicago, Number Nine.

I'm convinced Nationwide Direct Distance Dialing is simple to use, but...

Q. What happens if I should reach a wrong number or make a mistake while dialing?

A. If you reach a wrong number, ask the person who answers what city and telephone number you have reached. Then dial "OPERATOR" (zero) immediately and tell the operator what happened so she can notify the business office and your account will be properly credited. If you make a mistake while dialing, hang up immediately; then lift the receiver, wait for dial tone, and dial the complete number again.

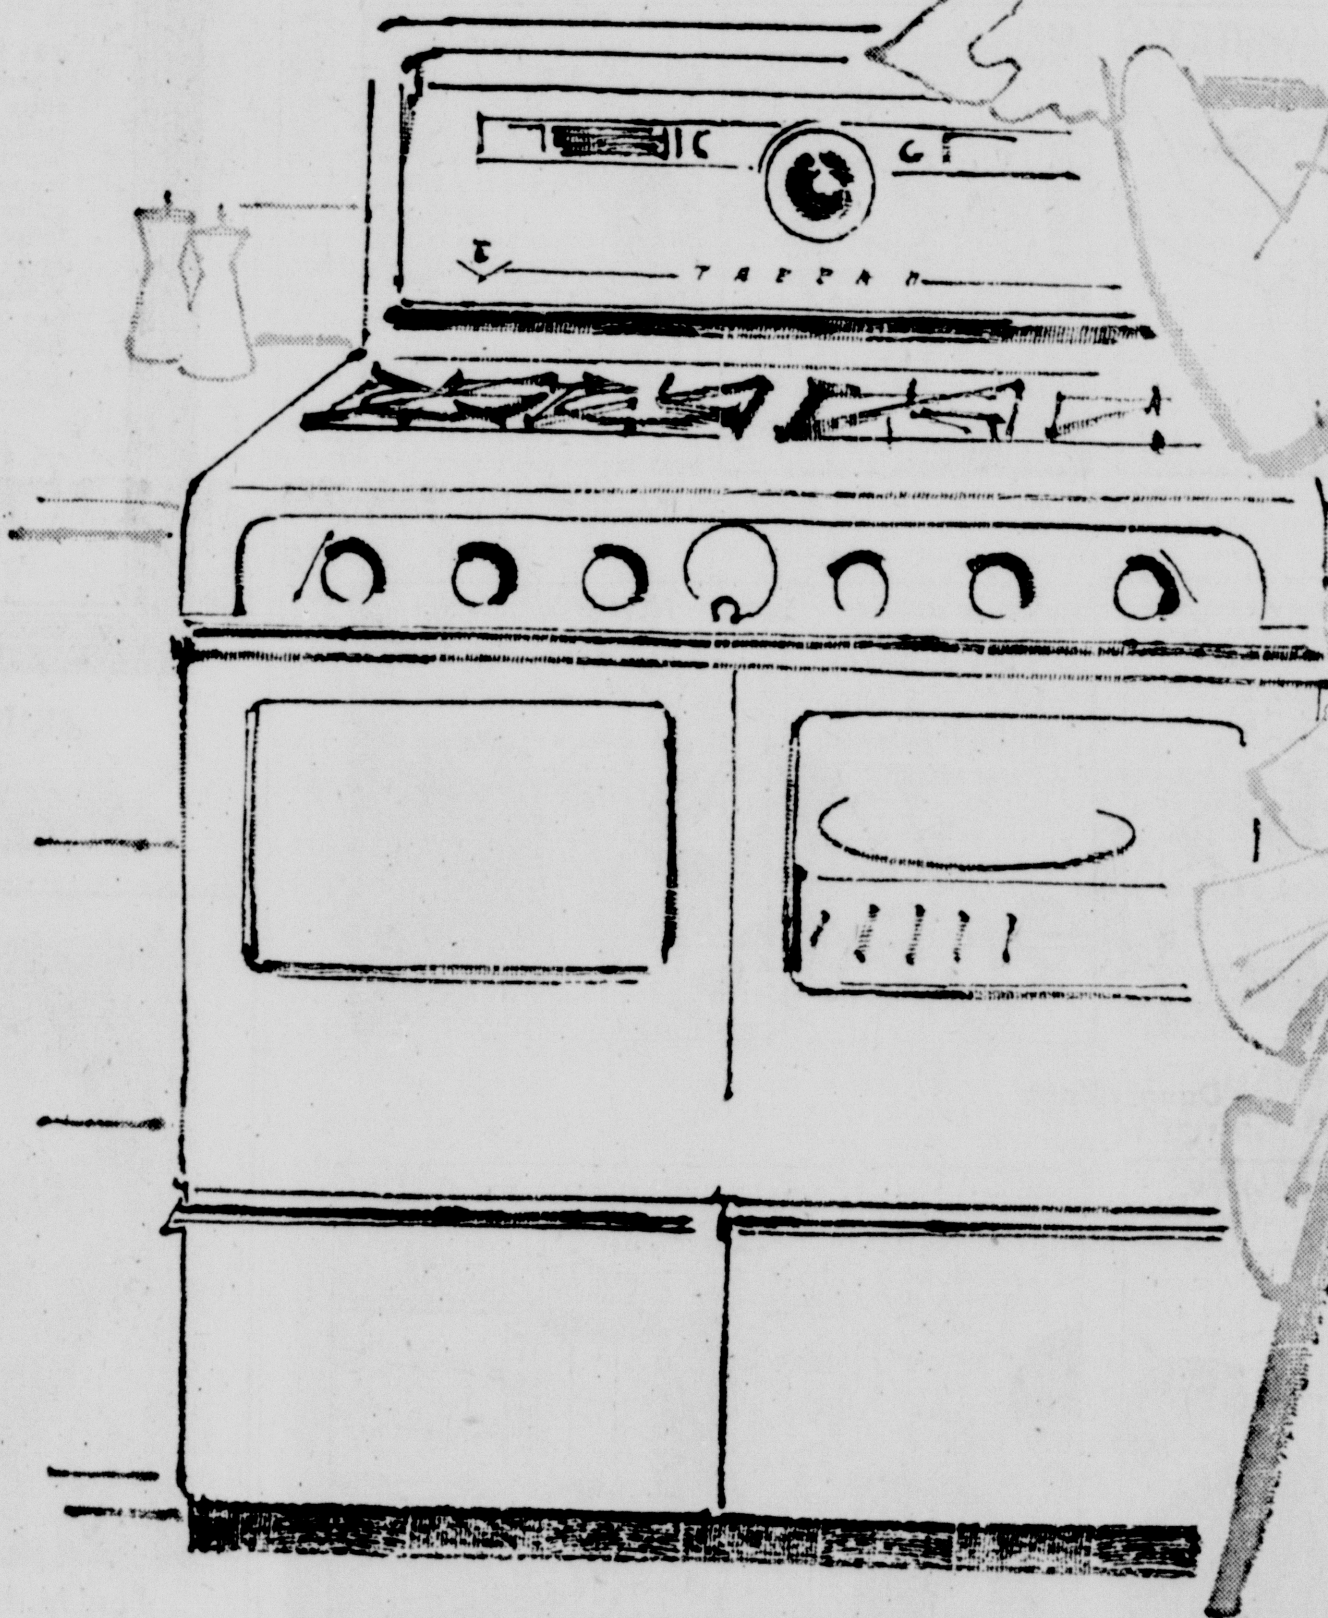

YOU WILL NOT BE CHARGED ...

- if you hang up before you dial the complete number
- if the telephone number you dial is busy or does not answer
- if you call "information" in a distant city.

NAACP Sets Goal Of Three Million Negro Voters

ATLANTA (AP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People set out today to get three million Negro voters to the polls with the help of the Federal Civil Rights Commission and "change the complexion" of southern state legislatures.

Roy Wilkins, NAACP national executive secretary, said the NAACP will study state and local racial voting barriers in the South and report any illegal disenfranchisement to the commission.

A statement drafted during the weekend by Negro leaders of the 10 states set a goal of 60 per cent registration of eligible Negro voters, or about three million. At present only about 25 per cent are registered, in contrast to 60 per cent of eligible whites.

take long to discover that the fire had been set. Oil by the gallon had been splashed over walls, floors and furnishings. It was oil from the barrel on the terrace in back. The barrel had been three quarters full, it was all but empty. The town had its glut of sensations that night and the following day. Beyond a doubt Bob Brown was the arsonist.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

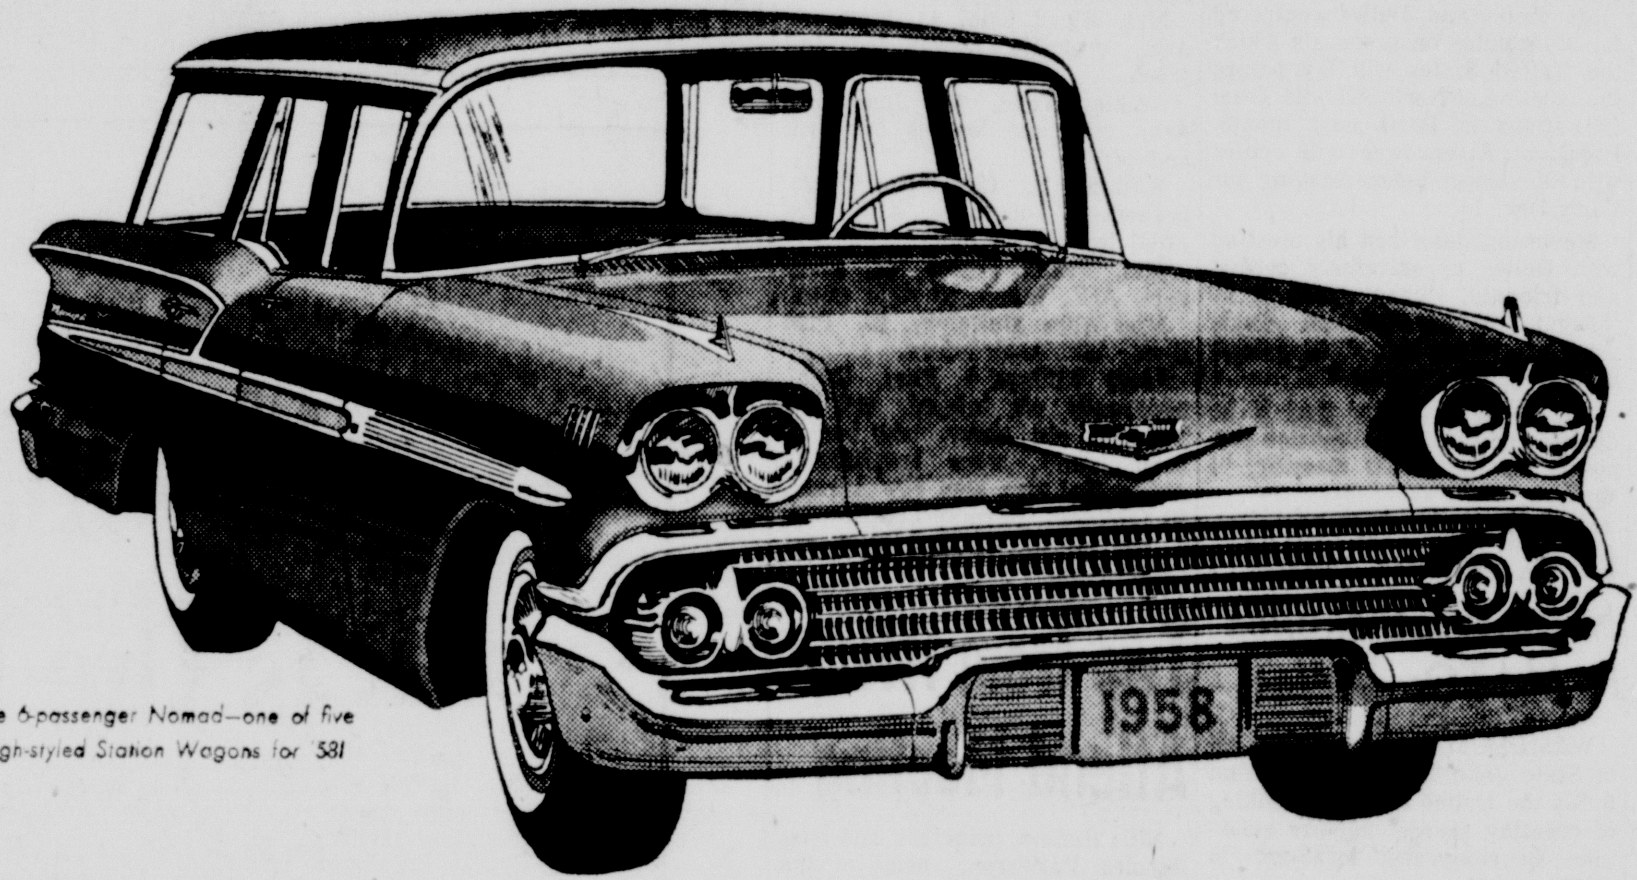

"I'm not ignorant," admitted an honest man. "I'm just stupid." Many of us would make the same admission of human error if we analyzed ours. I've objectively. We have reasonably good educations. We keep ourselves well informed about many matters. We know the right ways to act and the proper things to say.

We merely blunder thoughtlessly into error. We blurt out statements which are unkind or unnecessary. We short cut procedures and omit necessary steps. We blame others for our mistakes. We do not clarify misunderstandings. Most of this results from stupidity rather than from ignorance.

There is an easy way to avoid this hurting of other people. We can measure our words and control our actions. We merely have to treat others as we wish to be treated.

Stevenson Tackles Proposals for NATO Meeting; to Submit Comments

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, working in a borrowed office in the State Department, today tackled U. S. proposals for the NATO conference in Paris next month.

The twice-defeated Democratic presidential candidate is working without pay, expenses or title as a consultant for the administration of his old political foe, President Eisenhower.

Stevenson planned to leave for New York later in the day and then go to Chicago. He is expected to return to Washington in a few days to devote as much time as possible on plans for the mid-December meeting.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Monday gave Stevenson a tentative administration blueprint for strengthening the free world against Russia's missile threat.

The titular head of the Democratic Party promptly settled down to study the proposals and to submit his comments in such a way as to be "as useful as possible." But he also promised to speak out if he does not approve. Stevenson and Dulles conferred for 90 minutes on proposals which the United States will lay before the meeting of North Atlantic Treaty nations in Paris next month. President Eisenhower will confer with Stevenson before leaving for Paris Dec. 14.

Stevenson described his meeting with Dulles as extremely cordial and friendly. When asked if he thought the arrangement would work out, he replied, "Yes, I think it is very encouraging."

But he said bluntly that if he did not approve administration proposals for the NATO meeting, "I shall say so."

U. S. May Create Nuclear Stockpiles In NATO: Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the United States is thinking of creating several nuclear stockpiles in convenient locations in NATO countries.

He also said the United States probably will explore the possibility of establishing missile bases in continental European countries similar to those agreed to with Britain.

Dulles said, however, the United States does not now have operational intermediate range ballistic missiles (IRBM) ready for basing abroad. He said he supposed it will be about the end of 1958 before they will be available for such purposes.

He said the United States probably will first discuss setting up missile bases in Europe with Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme allied commander of Europe. Then if those discussions indicate the IRBM bases would be feasible, the United States would talk with the foreign governments involved about actual locations.

Dulles' missile base remarks were made at his weekly news conference. A reporter said that some European Allies don't want U. S. long-range missiles on their soil for fear of Soviet retaliation.

In reply, Dulles said the United States is not going to force missiles on any nation that doesn't want them. Furthermore, he said, Norstad told him only about two days ago that these missiles are very much desired by America's NATO allies.

Trains Collide Near Gorham; 13 Persons Hurt

GORHAM, Ill. (AP)—At least 13 passengers on a Cotton Belt Line train were injured early today when the southbound passenger train was "sideswiped" by a diesel freight near here.

The injured were taken to hospitals in Murphysboro and Chester. None was reported in serious condition.

Officials of the Cotton Belt Line said there were only 27 passengers on the train when the accident occurred.

They said the freight sideswiped the second baggage car as the trains were passing, then bounced against a mail and express car and two coaches.

Jackson County Deputy Sheriff Ray Varner said three diesel units pulling the 110-car freight were derailed. He said there was considerable damage to equipment but the passenger train was expected to resume its scheduled run "in a few hours."

Railroad officials said an investigation was underway to determine responsibility for the accident.

At least nine of the injured were hospitalized at St. Andrew's Hospital, Murphysboro. They were: Mrs. Floyd Saul, 43, Stuttgart, Ark., probable broken leg and shock.

Archie Wade, 65, Jonesboro, Ark., cuts and bruises left arm and leg.

Mrs. Frank Popler, 65, Stuttgart, Ark., injury to right chest.

Miss Alice McKelvey, 25, Pine Bluff, Ark., neck injury.

Lindy William, 1, Flint, Mich., apparently not injured, and her 2-month-old sister, who had a head injury, were hospitalized.

Authorities also kept two Aurora, Ill., children, Herman Lee Fowler, 4, and his sister, Darlene, 2, for observation.

Elis Henson, principal, and Miss Bernice Patterson, head of the English department of Harrisburg Township high school, are in Urbana Tuesday and Wednesday of this week attending a University School conference to promote better articulation between high school and the University.

Harrisburg high school is one of the seventy-five schools in the state which have been invited to the meeting. Principals will have an opportunity to talk to graduates of their high school who are enrolled at the University and will learn something of the problems which confront them as university freshmen.

English teachers will have an opportunity to visit English classes on the university campus and will confer with teachers in this department. It is hoped that as a result of the conference the high school will be in better position to turn out students capable of doing better work in the field of English.

Last year the local high school received a letter of commendation for the quality of instruction which it offered to its graduates. The letter came as a result of a study of several thousand students from various high schools.

Mr. Henson will serve as recorder for the conference which is being held this week.

Wheat to Poland

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—More than 280,000 tons of American wheat have arrived in Poland since July 23 under the Polish-American economic agreement, the Polish News Agency said today.

The agency also said that 9,800 tons of soybeans, 96,000 bales of cotton and 15,000 tons of fats had arrived from the United States.

Lift Ban On Air Force Comment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Assistant Defense Secretary Murry Snyder said today that a ban on potential ly embarrassing Air Force comment on space satellites has been lifted.

Snyder told the House information subcommittee that the Oct. 9 order, issued to officers of the Air Research and Development Command five days after Russia launched its first Sputnik, violated Defense Department information policies. He said he hoped the official who issued it would be "censured."

Snyder denied knowing anything about another Air Force order, issued by the same official Oct. 17, which indicated that President Eisenhower may personally have ordered a gag-rule on all comments on this country's satellite program.

The official who issued both orders was Harold M. Helfman, deputy director of information at the Air Research and Development Command, Baltimore, Md.

Subcommittee Chairman John E. Moss (D-Calif.) complimented Snyder for his action.

Rep. Dante Fascell (D-Fla.) said this type of order gave to the public an impression of a "cover-up" about the satellite program.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker announced today that all regular Army troops will be withdrawn from duty at Little Rock's Central High School the day before Thanksgiving.

Brucker said "continuing stability" in the Little Rock school integration case makes it possible to pull out the last 225 men of the 101st Airborne Division on Nov. 27.

The move will leave approximately 900 federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen on duty to keep order and protect the nine Negro students admitted to the high school under Federal Court order.

Dedicate New Metropolis Plant

METROPOLIS, Ill. (AP)—The Allied Chemical and Dye Corp. has dedicated an $11,500,000 plant here for the production of uranium hexafluoride for the Atomic Energy Commission.

At a dinner meeting Monday night following the dedication ceremony, Sen. Everett Dirksen said the plant would "augment the security of the nation and help insure its survival."

The plant is expected to begin production in 1959.

Earlier, Dirksen and Chester Brown, head of the firm's chemical division, unveiled a plaque marking the "participation of private enterprise in the peacetime uses of atomic energy."

Metropolis was chosen as the site of the plant last March.

Sherman Adams Denies President Is Isolated

CHICAGO (AP)—Top White House assistant Sherman Adams has denied President Eisenhower is being "isolated" from his duties to the country, and said the President "knows what the gripes are."

The presidential assistant told 1,000 Republicans at a rally Monday that the job of the White House staff is to see to it "the President of the United States is the best informed person in the world."

Disclaiming any policy-making role for himself, Adams said his staff "simply serves the desk of the President," carrying out his wishes.

Adams said the term "modern Republican" is intended to describe an "attitude, not a division," saying the proof of the pudding lies in the fact that "the President has put in as much time campaigning for Republicans as any president in history."

The former New Hampshire governor said the term signifies only that the party should be "dynamic, forward-looking and courageous" in dealing with current problems.

Adams said the President "is not isolated" from his duties to the country, and said the President "knows what the gripes are."

Metropolis was chosen as the site of the plant last March.

The Wailing Wall

Purdue Scores Three Times On 23 Yards; Winless Team Unlucky, Parseghian Says

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO — Purdue made gains of 23 yards good for three touchdowns against his Wildcats, so Northwestern Coach Ara Parseghian told the "wailing wall" today "you've got to be damn unlucky to go winless."
"They had two touchdowns when their total offense was seven yards," he said. "We had a pass interception and they ran one play, then threw a pass and we were behind. Next our boy drops the ball, they recover and have to go only four yards for a touchdown. They made a total offense of 23 yards good for three touchdowns."

Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue agreed. "We won," he said, "but we didn't do it impressively. We took advantage of all our chances, so I guess we were opportunists. I think maybe we downrated Northwestern, but we were down a little bit."
Ohio State does "a good job of rushing," Iowa's Forest Evashevski said. "Offensively their line is much better than last year, defensively not as good. I hope we don't run into anybody like Bob White again. We jammed up the middle, but they whipped us there."

Woody Hayes rates Iowa "a whale of a football team" but said his Buckeyes "were just a little better. These kids have improved every week since the Washington game."

Milt Bruhn of Wisconsin felt that "a lot of penalties at crucial times" hurt the Badgers against Illinois. "Illinois seemed to gain momentum as the game went along," he said, "and we made a lot of mistakes. We were pretty high for the game."

Ray Elliot of Illinois said that Wisconsin was "about as good as any we've played this season. They had a good team, fast and tough, and they can do a lot of things. I'd say they're the most improved team in the conference."

Bob Hicks said his Indiana team "stuck in there pretty good" against Michigan. "We played a 0-0 first quarter, and that's the first time we've done that this year. We changed our defenses, and they worked very very good. Now the kids would like to go out and beat Purdue."

Bennie Oosterbaan of the Wolverines said that "Indiana played good football, hit hard and never gave up," but he added that his team "will have to be a lot better if we hope to win against Ohio State."
Michigan State in the first half against Minnesota "was the best we've ever been," Coach Duffy Daugherty said. "We used a couple of new plays for those long gainers. They were counter-flows with Blanche Martin and Walt Kowalczyk veering behind the line away from the flow of the backs."
Terry Brennan of Notre Dame said his team "unquestionably played its best game" to beat Oklahoma, but he added that "Oklahoma was as good as any team we've played this season. They didn't show us anything new, though."

Yankees Offer 4 Expendables, Seek Pitcher

NEW YORK — The dethroned New York Yankees, losing little time in an attempt to get back on the winning track, already have offered four of their "expendables" in the hope of coming up with an other front-line pitcher for 1958.

Harry Simpson, Tommy Byrne, Enos Slaughter and Joe Collins all were offered to various clubs during the past few weeks and there is a chance two or three of those four may figure in a deal during the Major-Minor League meetings at Colorado Springs, Colo., Dec. 2-7.

The Baltimore Orioles are especially interested in Simpson, whom Paul Richards feels can help his club at first base.

Simpson came to the Yanks from Kansas City last June in the Billy Martin deal.

Stengel had his eye on two or three pitchers with the Orioles and the one he probably would like most is Billy Loes, who came on to record a 12-7 record with Baltimore this year after being abandoned by the Dodgers.

Slaughter, Byrne and Collins no longer figure in the Yankees' plans because of their age. Slaughter is 41, Byrne will be 38 next month and Collins will be 35 in two weeks. General Manager George Weiss and Stengel always feel they can use more pitching and there are a number of hurlers in the league who appeal to them. Among those they would like to land are Dick Donovan of the White Sox, Ray Narleski of the Indians, Billy Hoelt of the Tigers and Camillo Pascual of the Senators.

Cousy Charges Deliberate Foul

WORCESTER, Mass. — Veteran Bob Cousy, star of the champion Boston Celtics, enters City Hospital today for treatment of a leg injury which he says was "deliberately" inflicted.

Dr. Paul Shannon said he hoped to reduce the painful swelling in the right thigh without resorting to surgery.

The Celtics' sparkplug was injured in Saturday's game with the Philadelphia Warriors which Boston won, 111-89, for their 11th straight victory this center.

The injury occurred when the Warriors' high-scoring center, Neil Johnston, collided with Cousy who charged Monday night that the incident was a "deliberate" foul.

Shannon said a blood clot had formed in the injured leg and Cousy would be sidelined for at least two or three weeks.

The Celtics go after victory No. 12 against the Detroit Pistons in Detroit Thursday night.

Whatever Happened to—

Jess Sweetser

By United Press

In 1926, Jess Sweetser dropped a bomb on the golf world by becoming the first American ever to win the British Amateur championship. He had won the U. S. crown in 1922 and played on numerous Walker Cup teams before and later, but his British victory was a shocker to the experts on the other side of the Atlantic. Unluckily for Jess, his reign was short-lived, for an amateur named Bob Jones happened along about that time.

Whatever happened to Jess Sweetser? Today, he's a vice president of a huge aircraft manufacturing company at Baltimore and finds time for golf at a noted spot near Washington called "Burning Tree."

At the age of 17, Benjamin Franklin arrived in Philadelphia after a trip by boat and on foot from New York. All the clothing he owned was stuffed in the pockets of his great coat. To satisfy his hunger, he purchased three enormous loaves of bread. As he walked down the street, eating one loaf, carrying another under each arm, and his pockets bulging, one of the first people he met was Deborah Reed. ## Michigan State, Ohio State Placed One-Two in Grid Ratings

NEW YORK — Michigan State took over the top spot in the United Press college football ratings today in the wake of week-end upsets that dropped Texas A&M to fourth place and Oklahoma to fifth.

Ohio State jumped up to the No. 2 rating; Auburn, one of the two remaining perfect-record teams in the major college ranks, could not advance last week's No. 3 ranking; and Notre Dame returned to the top 10 group — in ninth place — on the strength of its stunning 7-0 upset victory which snapped Oklahoma's 47-game winning streak.

Mississippi was another newcomer in this week's top ten advancing from 11th place to sixth. Navy, Iowa, Notre Dame and Army rounded out the select group in that order.

Rice, which produced a major shocker Saturday by beating last week's top-ranked Texas A&M 7-6, was placed 13th in the weekly ratings of the 35 leading coaches who comprise the United Press board.

Auburn, 6-0 conqueror of weak Georgia, attracted the most first place votes from the coaches. Coach Shug Jordan's unbeaten and untied powerhouse had 14, compared to 13 for Michigan State and seven for Ohio State.

However, the two Big Ten titans received stronger support for succeeding places and thus took over the first two ratings with 310 and 283 points, respectively. Auburn had 278 points.

This marked the first time in the eight-season history of the United Press ratings that two teams from the same conference placed 1-2 in any weekly ballot of the coaches.

Ohio State clinched the Big Ten championship and the Rose Bowl berth by beating Iowa, 17-13.

Michigan State, the National Champion in 1952, winds up its season Saturday against Kansas State. Ohio State takes on Michigan, while Auburn still has games remaining against Florida State and Alabama.

Living High On the Cuff

Americans Owe 43 Billion, But Savings Well Over 800 Billion

BY FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UP)—Americans are living high on the hog. And high on the cuff, too.

Among us, we owe 43 billion dollars, nearly 3 billion more than last year.

But even as we sign IOU's, we salt away cash. Our savings this year add up to well over 800 billion dollars.

Installment credit outstanding accounts for about 33 billion dollars of the total personal debt. Of this, commercial banks have 12 billion 300 million dollars; sales finance companies (automobiles, appliances) have loaned 9 billion 300 million dollars; small loan companies, or consumer finance companies, have around 3.2 billion dollars this year, according to the National Consumer Finance Association.

One Family in Six

The 10,745 small loan offices around the nation, operated by 1,550 firms, claim one out of every six families for a customer and they look for a 12 to 14 per cent growth in volume next year.

Is there danger in this rising installment credit spiral?

Many economists believe it is doing no harm since nobody will continue to extend new credits if repayments do not come in on schedule.

Why do we borrow?

About one-third of the 16 million loans made by small loan companies this year are for debt consolidation, where the customer borrows to pay off a flock of bills and is left with one debt. Medical and dental expenses account for 11 per cent of the small loans; 8 per cent goes for car purchases and upkeep. Clothing accounts for 6 per cent of the loans, as does travel and vacations.

Many people borrow to buy things even though they have the cash. They feel they'll never save the money again once they touch their savings. So they take out a loan.

Installment Credit Rises

Installment credit also is rising because we're urged to use credit for just about everything. Undertakers now have plans for prepaid funerals. They call it, "pay now go later."

The small loan companies are growing right along with the use of credit. They now employ about 55,000 people and have an annual payroll of about 250 million dollars.

Despite some ads that say "low rates," small loan companies usually charge low rates when compared to loan sharks. Unlike the loan sharks, small loan companies are bound by law to give you a fair deal.

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE is the way we Dodge dealers feel about competitors' efforts to match the Swept-Wing 58. They lowered the roof some, but left the sides high. Their windshields got smaller while ours got bigger. So much for styling. Then, for another important comparison, take ride. Here's Dodge with Torsion-Aire suspension that just about everybody admits is the greatest advance in sway-free, dip-free, silent going that any car offers. So what do these other cars do? They borrow an air suspension system that's been used in buses for two years! (Costing well over $100.00 extra.) And most of 'em still don't have push-button driving—much less Dodge TorqueFlite—the proven automatic transmission. If you're a little disappointed in the '58 version of your car, come on in and see our Swept-Wing 58. The others are catching on—but they can't catch up.
